

Recommendations:

- State parties take all measures to include environmental studies (in global, national and local contexts) within the compulsory school curriculum
- State parties take all measures to provide quality information to children and youth regarding environmental degradation, conservation and rights.
- State parties support spaces (sciences fairs, conferences, etc.) where children and youth exchange with actors in science, industry and public policy on the potential awareness raising and action plans in the field of environmental conservation
- State parties support the creation of independent institutions aimed at collecting data on the environmental phenomena affecting the citizenry. The independent institutions shall integrate children and youth into both administrative and scientific capacities
