Facebook Groups

Background note

The Shift carried a series of investigative pieces between May, 2018 and June 2018 in relation to a number of Partit Laburista (PL) linked super-sized Facebook groups.

The articles are all available here: <https://theshiftnews.com/category/investigations/labour-online-hate-groups/>.

The background to this investigation was existing local research showing both Malta's Facebook addiction¹ as well as extensive academic research on Facebook's predisposition to create "echo chambers" or "filter bubbles"² and how this can be further amplified through the use of closed or even secret groups.³

Put very simply, Facebook's algorithm shows you, based on your interactions on the platform, what it believes you want to see, and it thinks you will react to the most. The trend is therefore for Facebook to further reinforce the user's beliefs and isolate the user from differing views. With groups, users are placed into wider 'bubbles' with a wider reach for their social media posts (a Facebook user's post are limited by number of friends and interactions by friends but in a group the reach is extended to the size of the group). If the group is "closed" (i.e. new members need to be approved by an administrator) then its membership is curated according to the group's rational (e.g. a far-right Facebook group will group users with similar beliefs, with critics being inevitably kicked out of the group) and, as a result, content in the group becomes less diverse. Further, given Facebook's predisposition to promote content which is more engaging, the more extreme posts (gathering more "likes", "reactions" or comments) will inevitably gain more exposure in the group - Facebook's echo chamber effect on steroids but which can though the intervention of group administrators or moderators be curated. Facebook groups can also be "secret" meaning that not only are persons not allowed to see what happens in the group unless approved as a member, but the existence of the group is hidden from public view altogether.

The Shift was also aware that, just a year earlier, Facebook had announced a further tweak to its algorithm (the black box that determines what each person sees) in that Facebook would be further promoting content posted in groups to members.⁴

Anecdotal reports showed: (a) that online discourse in Malta was (and is) increasingly becoming polarised and abrasive, (b) politicians including government officials were (and are still) increasingly using Facebook to disintermediate the press and spread counternarratives, and (c) instances of mass trolling or outright online threats through Facebook were becoming more frequent.

⁴ <https://money.cnn.com/2017/06/22/technology/facebook-zuckerberg-interview/index.html>

The Shift accordingly set out to analyse the local landscape with particular emphasis on groups linked to the major political parties.

The investigation involved research over the course of approximately nine months.

It should be borne in mind that (a) The Shift is an investigative journalism outlet accordingly its end product is not intended to be an academic study and (b) analysing and reporting on Facebook activity is not easy given the sheer volume of content produced online particularly in larger groups some of which have existed for over nine years now.

Summary of Findings

Whilst both political parties, Partit Nazzjonalista (PN) and Partit Laburista (PL) appeared to have Facebook groups with supporters (including closed and secret groups) there were stark differences, foremost among which was the difference in size. PN's largest group (presently "Team PN – Team Success") topped out at just over 3,000 members with the average group size across the groups analysed between 500 to 1,000 members. PL's groups on the other hand topped out at 20,000 members ("Laburisti Sal-Mewt." being the largest) with an average size of ten times PN's groups' average.

What set the PL groups apart (besides sheer size) and which turned the PL groups into the focus of The Shift's reports were:

- (a) The involvement of government officials and public service employees (alongside PL party officials) in actively administering and moderating the groups including screening members for PL membership and curating content by removing critical views;
- (b) The membership and participation in the groups by Ministers and Parliamentary Secretaries as well as the President of the Republic;
- (c) The larger groups changed composition of administrators and moderators (as well as posting settings e.g. requiring pre-approval to post) in times of elections or disquiet showing a high degree of control and co-ordination; and
- (d) The high proportion of hyper-partisan and abrasive content in the groups at times verging onto potential criminal offences ranging from hate speech to trading in influence.

Toxic online discourse, particularly in relation to partisan interests, is an unfortunate reality in Malta (and elsewhere) but when those partaking in such discourse and in certain instances curating the topics (by excluding for example differing views) are government officials and public service employees, this creates a host of concerns not least over the separation between Party and State, a cornerstone of democracy.⁵

Details of the main findings are included in The Shift's article "Investigating Joseph Muscat's online hate machine" published on 14 May, 2018⁶ with follow ups on 23 May, 2018 ("Manufacturing consent: How secret online groups feed the cycles of spin"⁷), 24 May, 2018 ("Behind the scenes: How Labour online groups reacted to Daphne Caruana Galizia's assassination”⁸) and on 3 June, 2018 (“Il-King ta’ Malta: Muscat worship and Labour hate groups”⁹), amongst others. Printouts are included in Annex A.

Some examples of vitriolic content are included below by way of example as well as in annex (Annex B) the first 54 pages of results in just one of the largest groups for the search term “DCG”. Also included (Annex C) is one chain of comments under just one post in the Groups relating to activist Tina Urso before this became an episode of mass online harassment (presently in court) (this was covered in the first article by the Shift¹⁰).

Boycott!!

Hbieb, Daphne Caruana Galizia kitbet tghajjir u zebliet fil-konfront ta' missier il-partner ta' Jeffrey Pullicino Orlando li ilu mejjet 3 snin!

Din il-hdura kontra bniedem mejjet ghas-semplici raguni li kien Laburist, anke jekk kien irrispettat minn kulhadd!

Ghajjret tfal b'dizabilita ghax missierhom inzerta Ministru Laburista!

Ghajjret 2 tfal innocenti ghax missierhom inzerta l-Prim Ministru!

Li l-hdura taghha u l-mibgheda hi bla limitu, jaf kulhadd!

Li ma`jafx kulhadd hu li fuq il-blog taghha, jirreklamaw biex isostnuha l-McDonalds u Alf. Mizzi & Sons.!

Online Harassment & Disinformation

Whilst the Facebook groups are just a technology tool (abused of), it is the content including the persons posting same and the ends sought to be achieved that is most deserving of focus.

We briefly group these into two headings:

- (a) Online harassment / incitement of critics by government officials; and
- (b) Disinformation.

Online Harassment / Incitement

Some notable examples of accounts and posts by government officials / consultants:

1. Neville Gafa (then OPM – Ministry of Health co-ordinator)

Neville Gafa is with Sonya Abela and 7 others. 2 December 2016

Believe it or not, this is what Daphne Caruana Galizia advised the Health Minister - "If you want to tackle obesity, Fearnie, lead by example and start with the cabinet".
Definitely, DCG is leading by example.

3. Josef Caruana (Editor of it-Torca, OPM employee from 2017)

Excerpts from June 2017 editorial by Caruana in it-Torca:

Sadanittant ma' saqajna għad għandna l-midja falza u gurnalisti devjati bħal Pierre Portelli, Neil Camilleri, Ivan Camilleri, Jacob Borg u oħrajn, li pprovaw iqarrqu bil-poplu. Huwa sewwa u xieraq li issa jgħibu minn professjoni li rnexxielhom jinfettaw bl-istejjer ivvintati u tghawwiġ tal-fatti tagħhom. Il-jum tal-gudizzju u l-kant tad-dies irae, dies ille għandu jidwi wkoll lill-midja li jirrapprezentaw – it-Times u l-Malta Independent – li wkoll għamlu minn kollox biex ifixklu l-progress Malti. Kif qal tajjeb Joseph Muscat, il-koll irridu nġinuh biex issehh għaqda nazzjonali u jkollna soċjetà gusta, li mhux biss tkun l-aqwa fl-Ewropa, iżda l-aħjar fid-dinja. Ma nistgħux nilhqu dan l-għan nobbli jekk ikun għad fadal mazzri bħal tradituri u establishment djaboliku.

In-nies qalu LE għal blogging tal-odju u għal dawk it-taparsi gurnalisti ddetmati mill-aġenda Nazzjonalista ta' mibegħda. Rajna d-ghufija ta' gurnalisti bla sinsla li kienu kuntenti rekbin fuq il-karru, li jimxi biss b'qerq u mibegħda fil-qala (flok riħ), bħal Daphne Caruana Galizia, Ivan Camilleri, Jacob Borg, Mario Frendo, Neil Camilleri u Pierre Portelli. Dawn u oħrajn, li kellhom aġendi iżjed personali, bħal Joe Borg u David Thake, iridu jbaxxu rashom quddiem il-verdett u jisparixxu mill-gurnalizmu. Il-poplu tkellem u għazel ... u għandu jiġi rispettat. Il-poplu jagħmlek u l-poplu jwarrbek. Hu l-waqt li l-lifgħat ma jkomplux jisku veleni lil gensna. Issa żmien ta' rikonċiljazzjoni u għaqda. Qabel dan issehh, irid jibda l-process ta' tindif. B'hekk nibqgħu mexjin lejn l-aqwa żmien.

Matthew Caruana Galizia:

Why are you regularly spreading falsehoods about your country? Why are you regularly depicting us as a mafia-state? Why are you, for instance, unjustly claiming that your mother was assassinated because the Maltese Government failed to provide her with protection when you know that she refused it? Your pain is understandable. Does it make it any better when you embarrass each and every one of us internationally?

This is what your mother said about police protection:

"I do not WANT even a fixed-point constable at the gate to my home, let alone somebody stuck to my hip and following my every movement while armed or unarmed, because:

I am not a coward (and)... I regard a protection officer as a major inconvenience to be avoided at any cost" (Daphne Caruana Galizia, Running Commentary - 24/11/14 at 8.33pm)

Your personal tragedy has given you a podium which you are merely using to lash out at us all at any given opportunity. Pity.

Updated: Posters branding Busuttil, Caruana Galizia as 'crooks' affixed to Great Siege monument

 Monday, 30 July 2018, 11:52
 Last update: about 39 minutes ago

The above list of examples (or targets) is far from exhaustive.

Based on its own research of the online landscape in Malta, Bloomberg concluded in July 2018 that Malta ought to be included in the list of countries where state-sponsored trolling takes place.¹ It should be noted that so-called state-sponsored trolling comes in degrees or categories of gravity ranging from Category 4 “State-Leveraged or -Endorsed” to Category 1 “State-Executed”.² Based on:

- a) past instances of threats and harassment of journalists, activists or even mere critics,
- b) the involvement of senior government officials,
- c) a marked blurring between political propagandists and government functionaries (state / party separation),
- d) Facebook groups involved in trolling / harassment being administered or moderated by public officers, and
- e) lack of official condemnation and enforcement of appropriate laws, it is not difficult to reach a similar conclusion as Bloomberg.

² http://www.iff.org/fileadmin/user_upload/images/DigIntel/IFTF_State_sponsored_trolling_report.pdf

Disinformation

Besides targeted harassment, the above accounts as well as Facebook groups have been used with alarming frequency to flood online channels with competing narratives, often blatantly untrue or designed to trigger an emotional response.

The Shift extensively covered disinformation as well as tactics used in its series "Disinformation Watch": <https://theshiftnews.com/category/disinformation-watch/>

DAPHNE CARUANA GALIZIA KIENET KITBET LI PARTITARJI TA DELIA KIENU QED JGHIDULHA RIP.

Fuq il blog taghha, ffit iktar minn xahar ilu, fit 3 ta Settembru, Daphne Caruana Galizia kitbet hekk :-

Right now I'm getting messages from members of Adrian Delia's rabble, saying – with no punctuation except a lot of exclamation marks at the end – that I'm finished, RIP, take a cyanide pill, and other remarks involving body parts which I have long been accustomed to from Labour supporters.

The above examples relate to the aftermath of Daphne Caruana Galizia's assassination on 16 October, 2017 showing a mix of online counter-narratives, stemming from persons within OPM. The Shift's Disinformation Watch #10 focuses on this in particular.

<https://theshiftnews.com/2018/07/16/disinformation-watch-10-the-blame-game-governments-reaction-to-a-journalists-assassination/>

Perhaps the most disturbing online disinformation wave was the "Truth Project" a professionally created counter-narrative to the Daphne Project which was promoted heavily by persons such as Neville Gafa and distributed through Facebook groups.

The image shows a Facebook post by Neville Gafa, dated 26 April. The post includes a hashtag #TheSituationIsDesperate and a graphic titled "DECIDE". The graphic is a black rectangle with white text and two circular profile pictures. On the left, it features Paul Caruana Galizia's profile picture and a quote: "Why drop it now, Chris? We don't want you to". Below the quote is his name, "Paul Caruana Galizia", his handle "twitter", and the date "23 April 2018". On the right, it features Peter Caruana Galizia's profile picture and a quote: "I don't see why I should have to defend my wife's work", implying that he expected Cardona to drop the case. Below the quote is his name, "Peter Caruana Galizia", his handle "lovinmalta", and the date "26 April 2018". At the bottom left of the graphic is the text "The Truth Project". The Facebook post interface shows 71 reactions (including thumbs up, thumbs down, and a sad face), 17 comments, and 17 shares. At the bottom of the post are buttons for "Like", "Comment", and "Share".
