

Dear Mr/Mrs,

I am sending the response sent by our capital for this call:

(i) Argentina is committed to multilateralism as the best tool for finding shared solutions to common problems and therefore understands that negotiation and diplomacy are the only options for resolving conflicts and maintaining international peace and security.

(ii) Multilateralism must be based on solidarity and collective responsibility while considering the interests of all, particularly those of developing countries, ensuring its capacity to balance existing asymmetries.

Thank you very much,
